

Sinclair should not air its partisan documentary on airwaves that I help to pay for. They have access granted to them as a public trust. While I fully support their right to air what they want, when they want, they don't have the ability to use the airwaves to contribute to the campaign. I don't see how this would be any different from running the Swift Boat ads for free. No matter which way you cut it, this is a contribution.